

Enjoy this gift from Sarah Stup!

- E-mail it to the family members to celebrate the love you share.
- Cut and frame it as you would a favorite photo.
- Use it as a reminder of the family bonds that tie us to each others' hearts.

*Home is a pleasing place of plenty that never runs low
on nest feathers.*

— Sarah Stup

Excerpt, Nest Feathers: A celebration of family, home and memories shared © 2009–2017 Sarah Stup, SarahStup.com

Sarah Stup is a critically acclaimed author with autism whose book Nest Feathers is a celebration of family, home and memories shared.

Within its pages, Sarah takes a loving look at family members and the experiences that shape who we are. Home, she says, is a place of plenty, one that never runs low on nest feathers.

This charming booklet is the second title in Sarah's Keepsake Collection. To order your copy or read excerpts from Sarah's other books for adults and children, visit SarahStup.com.

Nest Feathers: A celebration of family, home and memories shared.